LENROOT MARSHALS FORCES FOR FIGHT ON WOOL SCHEDULE

Possibility of Mustering Enough Strength to Overturn Committee Approval Debated

WADSWORTH OF NEW YORK JOINS LENROOT IN ASSAULT ON TARIFF

Will Support Badger's Fight for Lower Wool Duties

WASHINGTON.—Whether Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin could swing enough republican votes to overturn the tariff committee majority and the agricultural tariff bloc in the matter of a maximum rate of sixty percent duty on coarse wool and its manufactures was a debatable question Tuesday at the capitol. The Wisconsin senator, who sought to have the committee accept his proposal and thus avoid an open break in the senate, was determined to make his fight all along the line unless the committee gave way. It was his plan to offer a sixty percent limitation amendment to each paragraph in the wool schedule. A vote on the first, that relating to carpet wool, was expected Tuesday.

Members of the committee backed by treasury experts, insisted that Mr. Lenroot's plan was not susceptible of administration, at least so far as manufacture were concerned, as each coat of coarse and fine wool enters into a single piece of cloth.

The Wisconsin senator said he would have to have further evidence than furnished thus far before he could be convinced that his plan was not feasible.

Democratic opponents of the duties in the wool schedule insist that all the ways are too high and under the leadership of Senator Walsh, Massachusetts, they plan to show what they contend will be the result of the duties on prices of clothing and other products of wool.

Wadsworth Joins Lenroot

Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, has joined with Senator Lenroot in his fight on duties on coarse wools. He said he did not believe a rate equivalent to 137 per cent on medium or even 90 per cent on such wools could be justified and added that "the curious spectacle" was presented of proposing the lowest and lightest duty on clothing for the rich and highest on clothing for the poor.

APPROVE PLANS FOR REORGANIZATION OF TENNESSEE RAILWAY

WASHINGTON.—Final approval for the reorganization plans on the Tennessee Central Railway company was announced Tuesday by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The property will be turned over to a new corporation having a total of stocks and bonds with a par value of $5,275,000. Its former capitalization at par was $20,632,000. Fixed interest charges will be reduced by the reorganization of $72,750 as compared with an annual interest of $594,572 previously.

PILGRIMS FLOCK TO SHRINE IN ILLINOIS SEEKING A MIRACLE

Lame and Sick Haunt St. Anne to Pray for Return of Health

ST. ANNE, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—This little village, now host to several hundred Catholics from Illinois, Indiana and adjacent states, who have come here as pilgrims to the shrine of St. Anne, may be called the "Land of Miracles."

A quiet, pastoral community, its placid religious atmosphere is seldom disturbed by even a ripple of excitement, but once a year it becomes the hope and shelter of the lame, the sick, and the distressed, who, with faith and prayer, here seek consolation.

It is said here, as at Lourdes in France, many come for healing and depart leaving their crutches.

Here at St. Anne's, on the altar within the church, repose a relic reputed to be that of St. Anne. And annually for thirteen years a novena or nine days' prayer is held. The ceremonies include sermons by Pastoral missionaries and the days and evenings are taken up with long periods of devotion.

On the final day the sacred relic is borne at the head of a procession which winds its way about the streets of the village, a long line of pilgrims following in solemn oblation.

Like Lourdes, St. Anne's has its history. Before 1825 the territory about here was a wilderness. The earliest of pioneers settled in Bourbonnais, where the first Catholic mission was founded.

In the early 30's, Pere Chirney, a priest of Mequon, came to join the colony. He liked the country and founded the town of St. Anne, Chicago later succeeded from the church. St. Anne was the center of the French colony. Bourbonnais, near here, with its 250 inhabitants, is today the typical French settlement.

It was to make reparation for this schism of Chirney's that the pilgrimage to the shrine was instituted, and it has continued through many years.

PRESTON BOY CHEWS TORPEDO; EXPLODES, INJURING HIS FACE

Chewing on a torpedo until it exploded, the four-year-old son of Lon Nagel, a farmer living about four miles southwest of Preston, had a hole blown in his cheek.

The torpedoes were purchased for the lad on Saturday evening. Sunday morning, while the father was doing chores, the boy was playing with the torpedoes in the barn. He started to chew on one when it exploded, blowing a hole in his right cheek. He was immediately taken to the Grinnell hospital at Preston.

Several stitches were necessary to sew up the wound. Reports from the hospital Monday morning say that the boy is resting easy and that no serious complication will result. The mistake, doctors say, will leave a bad scar. First reports at Preston were to the effect that the boy's face had been blown off.

Three deaths occurred near Preston Friday. Mrs. Olaus Thorson, aged about 50, died of cancer; Mrs. Knute Kolsrud, aged about 40, succumbed after a long illness, and Mrs. John Johnson, aged 85, died of old age. All were farmers' wives residing north of Fountain.

FLORISTS OF STATE IN ANNUAL SESSION AT OSHKOSH TODAY

OSHKOSH, Wis.—The third annual summer meeting of the Wisconsin state florists' association opened here Tuesday morning, for a two days session. It is expected about 200 will attend. The morning was spent chiefly with registration and reception of members. A business meeting will be held in the afternoon at the municipal clubhouse, with the president, Fred Rentschler of Madison, presiding. Mayor McHenry will give an address of welcome and the responses will be by C. C. Pollock of Milwaukee. Twenty minute talks are to be presented by S. B. Fracker of Madison, state ornithologist, on "plant diseases," J. E. Anagnost of Detroit, field manager of the florists' telegraph delivery association, and J. P. Keating, income tax assessor of Winnebago county. A banquet will be held Tuesday evening. Wednesday a steamer ride up the Fox river will be the feature.

COAL PROBLEM OF MORE IMPORTANCE NOW THAN STRIKE

Supply of Railroad Companies at Milwaukee Reported to be Running Low

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The problem of coal is becoming more important to railroads than the shopmen's strike, according to local officials. The Chicago & Northwestern railroad has taken off a few trains, but according to Charles Thompson, general agent, although their coal supply is low, no more trains will be taken off from the regular schedule, at least this week.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad has thus far experienced little difficulty and no trains have been removed, according to W. J. Thiele, general agent.

No defections in the ranks of the strikers was noted here. Because officials of the system federation of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road have not yet decided to accept the separate peace the truce probably will go by default, officials believe.

Felt—The Fabric of Fine Roofing

A look at the outside of an automobile tire leaves you no wiser than before as to its ability to stand up "in the long run." It's the fabric—down underneath—that gives a tire its backbone.

In exactly the same way, the asphalt-saturated felt in Flex-a-Tile Roofing provides the strength and toughness to outlast the years.

Felt-making is an art in itself; an art that more than fifty years of Richardson experience has reduced to a science. You can't see the genuine Richardson felt in Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles, but because it is there you can buy Giant Shingles or any other Flex-a-Tile Roofing with confidence that they will last as long as the building itself is likely to stand.

FLEX-A-TILE HOUSE TOPS

In Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles you get the best felt the Richardson Mills can produce—twice the thickness used in standard shingles—thoroughly saturated with scientifically tempered natural asphalt and coated on both sides to make it weather and water proof. Then a double surfacing of crushed slate from our own quarries at Flex-a-Tile, Georgia, is enameled right on; a natural green that grows richer with age (or red if you prefer.)

We recommend Flex-a-Tile Giant Shingles for any roofing job where unusual beauty and rugged durability, plus the real economy of extra years of usefulness, are desirable.

NOT CONDEMNED

It is not believed that Henry is not condemned; but he that is not condemned already, because he hath not received in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

Try This

OCCASIONALLY one finds it hard to decide upon the route for the evening airing. The family, of course, insists upon burning a modicum of gasoline on such a fine evening, but one mustn't go too far or it will pass posterity's test time before one can get back. Down-town, around Riverside Park and across to Pettibone—one has done it so often the thought of repeating it is wearisome. Likewise does one rebel at the Onalaska road, South Salem to Barre Mills, the Ten Mile House, etc. All are charming, but stale with over-doing. Where then?

Well, if the time of day is ripe for it, let us suggest that curving dirt road that lies along the edge of the marsh under the flank of Oak Grove cemetery, vaguely called "the lower road." The right time of day is important. For the best effect it must be just as the sun in shining its mellowest preparatory to its dip behind the Minnesota bluffs—sunset, in other words. The golden flood of clear light which is characteristic of Upper Mississippi sunsets (do you know that Mark Twain held upper river sunsets to be the loveliest to be seen anywhere in the world?) is essential to the proper appreciation of what you will see on the lower road.

Don't make the mistake of entering upon the road through Myrick Park. If you do you will turn your back upon the thing you have come to see—the Wisconsin hills across the marsh, bathed in the soft radiance of the sunset. Drive into the main entrance of the cemetery and turn sharp to your left, around the hairpin turn by the greenhouse and straight down the sharp drop to the marsh level. Then drive slowly, and let it soak in. When you come to the point on the road that juts farthest out into the marsh pull over to the bank on your right and stop to look, for behind you there is a castle frowning from the steep marshbank against the sunset, too striking to be missed. You'll know it for the county jail if you are a resident, but if you were a stranger you would think of a feudal keep and men in armor. One wonders what the bootleggers and sneak-thieves think of, at sunset, looking from their cells across miles of marsh to the gilded hills.

We shall not try to describe what you will see, if you have timed your visit just right to get the proper pale green wash on the tree-spotted velvet of the rugged hills, with the coulees mysterious in a misty blue and the bare rock-faces glowing red, brown and yellow. It is all softened and enhanced by the distance spread between the eye and the line of bluffs across the waving, glistening marsh. It is entirely different, but it is not surpassed even by the sunset radiance of the river against the blue blackness of the bluffs, as seen from Riverside Park. But we will wager that when you drive home slowly in the dusk you will be wondering why beauty like that, as the normal environment of folks who live in La Crosse, doesn't produce more artists and poets.

On Its Merits

KANSAS has been a cockpit of political and economic theory from its earliest days. But underneath its various ferments over numerous radical panaceas there has always been a saving realization of the importance of an even keel, and when the storm subsided history never found Kansas dismasted or derelict. The present row between "Henry and Me" illustrates the gentle common-sense that redeems and beautifies Kansas politics. Governor Allen and Editor White of Emporia are engaged in a battle royal, one to enforce a law, the other to vindicate a constitutional right that a twist of affairs has brought more or less into conflict with the latest Kansas patent in the way of economics. Governor Allen has arrested his best friend, and Editor White is sticking to his guns without a quiver.

Yet "Henry and Me" remain the best of friends, and entertain the same high regard for each other as before the storm arose. Because the governor and the Sage of Emporia realize that this is, after all, merely an issue between divergent theories of politics and economics.

It is a question as to which is the right way for the greater benefit of the state of Kansas. Each is satisfied to pursue his course to its logical destination, the solution to be with the machinery provided by the democracy. It is pure politics in the best sense. There is not an atom of personality or abuse about it.

In some other states—most of them, perhaps—were a governor to get involved with an editor over a point of authority and policy would mean the uncorking of the wials of vitriol, the marshalling of all means, fair and foul, to gain victory and humiliate the other man. Both sides would by now be hard at it. Mud and innuendo would be flying thick and fast on editorial pages and from the stump, each seeking to edge political advantage for himself and disaster for his rival from the wrangle. Can you imagine the same situation in Wisconsin, or in Illinois?

We commend the struggle of "Henry and Me" to the United States at large as an example of politics as it should be conducted. The issues, as are most issues in politics, are of great importance. They must be solved, and solved right. But personal abuse and chicanery, trickery and misrepresentation of motives, hinder instead of helping the community to reach the right solution. The most important lesson that politicians in this country could learn is that in most political differences both sides are usually sincere and honest. The man who disagrees with you is not necessarily a crook. He merely has a different angle on public affairs, and his position has as much right to consideration as your own.

The chief trouble with American politics is that campaigns so divide the people that irreparable damage is frequently done to the goodwill and unity necessary to the progress of the community. Too often the heat of rivalry obscures judgment, and sinks the issues into the background of nasty personal feuds. That way lies class war and smoldering hate, eventually the wreck of the democracy. Henry Allen and Bill White have the right idea. They are fighting a principle, and in the fight one must win and one must lose. But before, during and after the battle they are and will be friends.

Over the Radiophone

(By FRANK H. WILLIAMS)

Although Ted Cowles feared that he had lost out to his rival, Howard Wilkens, in his race for the heart and hand of his old-time schoolmate, Mary Johnson, he nevertheless listened in on her radiophone concerts every evening.

Ted and Mary had together become greatly interested in radio while attending college, and Ted had at first been delighted when upon their return to their home town Mary had been given a contract to sing three times a week for the local broadcasting station, which was managed by Wilkens. But this delight had soon changed to jealous rage with which Mary welcomed Wilkens' advances.

Of late Ted hadn't seen much of Mary—she had been so busy with her concert work and with the attentions which Wilkens showered upon her that there hadn't been time in which to see her old school friend. So that evening Ted sat in his boarding house room and almost determined not to listen in on Mary's concert, in spite of the fact that she had sent him a little personal note telling him that she was going to sing some new songs this evening and making a special request that he listen to her.

Ted started glumly at his receiving set. What in the world could she see in Wilkens? Wilkens was unscrupulous, hard-bent, Ted felt that he could read character and it was his opinion that if pressed there was almost nothing in which Wilkens would stop. For instance, Ted in his memories could picture that if Wilkens knew about the money Ted now had in his room, there'd be nothing Wilkens wouldn't do to get it. He thought rather worriedly. It was a big sum of money, $1,000 and it wasn't his. It was all in the shape of unfinished Liberty bonds and Ted was forced to keep it overnight in his room. He had received it that day in a business deal for the first time and he was treasuring it and the big vault at the bank had jumped shut that afternoon and would have to be opened by the police by order.

Ted felt that he didn't really need to worry and yet he did worry. He worried about the money and he worried about Mary, with whom he was very deeply in love. But there was nothing to be gained from simply worrying, so Ted turned his radiophone apparatus and started to listen in on the evening's entertainment from the broadcasting station. Mary was employed about a mile from Ted's boarding house.

Mary was singing when the first sounds came over the radiophone. He cleared his list at the words. "I love you truly, truly, dear," came Mary's sweet, thrilling voice.

So this was why she wanted him to listen in. This was her way of telling him that she had decided to marry him. Ted was very much surprised. At the world went back to Ted at that thought. He wanted to hear no more. He reached up to take the receivers from his ears.

But now the song broke off suddenly. A sound of commotion in the broadcasting station came to Ted over the radiophone. Then a high pitched shriek. "Help! Help!" screamed a voice, a voice that was surely Mary's, for so changed by terror that it was entirely different.

Mary in danger! Ted dashed to the receivers from his seat and listened to his feet. He must reach her as quickly as possible. And even then he might be too late. He reached up to take the receivers from the boarding house. Down the stairs he raced to the room of Dick Thompson on the first floor.

"Dick, Dick!" Ted cried to Dick Thompson, who was sitting in the street in Dick's speedy little roadster. "You know where the broadcasting station is, don't you? Follow me!"

"It is in that tall building near the far end of Calhoun street, isn't it?" said Dick in response.

"Yes," said Ted. "We ought to see it in a minute now."

For a moment there was silence in the car. Dick's eyes were fixed on the street and a little exclamation came from Ted as they turned a corner.

"That's it!" he exclaimed, involuntarily extending his hand toward a tall building visible ahead.

For answer Dick put on more speed. "Follow me," he called over his shoulder from Ted as he placed his hand compellingly on Dick's shoulder.

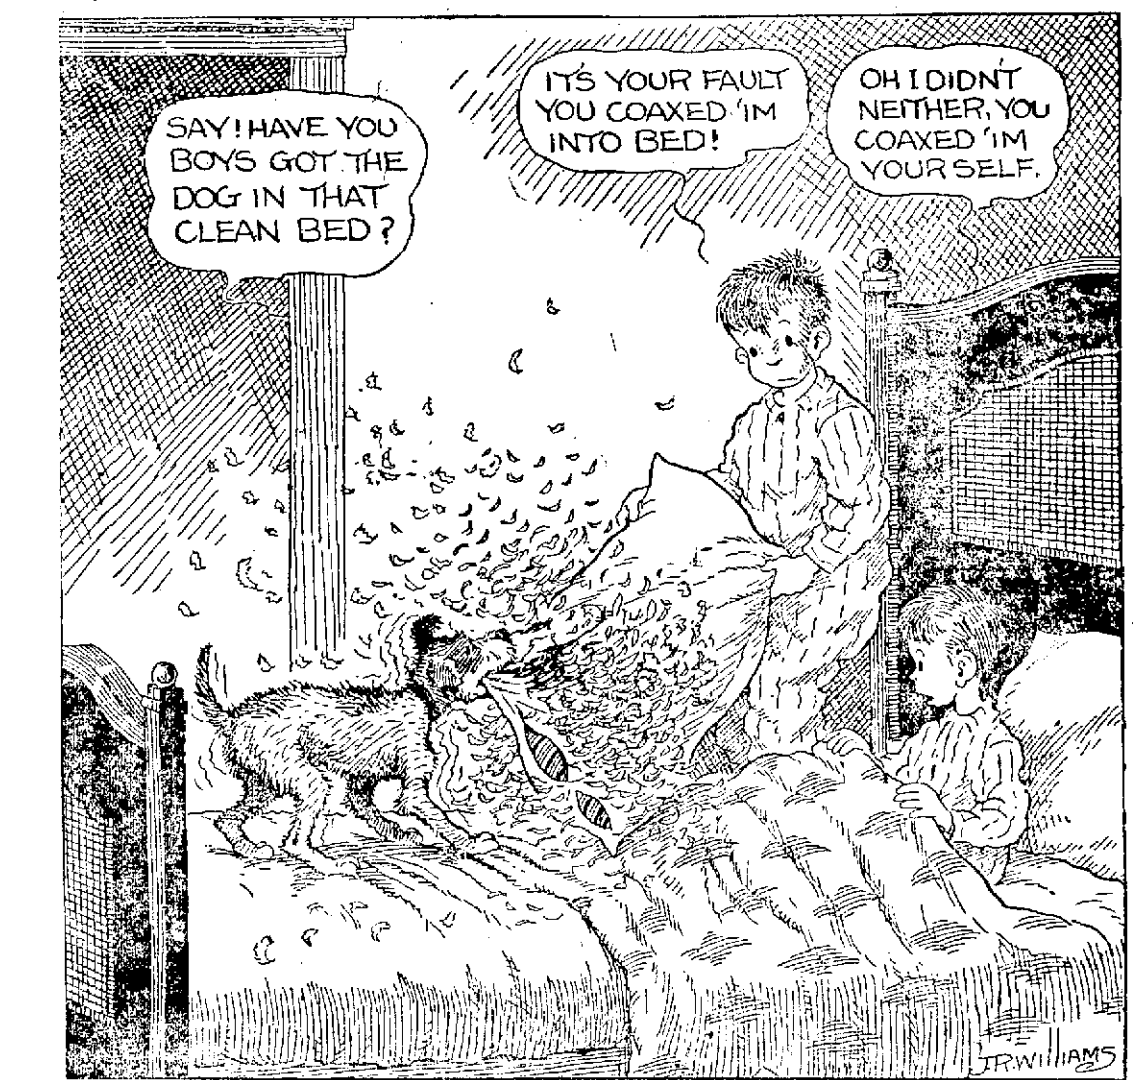

"On you see that light atop of the building?" cried Ted. "There it is now! It's gone again!"

"Sure, I see it," Dick replied. "Wait. Slow down," demanded Ted. "It can't be. Yes, it's gone. It is!"

For a few minutes Ted watched the "light" light in apparent fascination, his hand resting heavily all the time on Dick's shoulder and indicating by a quick nod that he was following.

"Keep quiet," Ted called. "Be ready for a fight!" admonished Ted as he led

OUT OUR WAY

TO VAMP OR NOT TO VAMP? THEN THE FLAPPERS FELL OUT

BY ZOE BECKLEY

"For goodness sake, Peg—telling Bob to come over at midnight! You'll shock Mrs. Vanderpool to death, and make Bobby lose his beauty sleep."

Peggy had been making a grimace at the preceding Mrs. Van, whose voice came softly over the wire.

"Well, old darling, you needn't be so afraid. You needn't."

"Then, with an attempt at mollifying Alice—'But, honey, I'm not dogmatizing. You, get me, I'll get Bob to give me a swing down the drive in his gas-wagon, say to Colonel's for an ice and back, that's all.'"

"But, Peg—you really aren't going to start out for a ride at twelve o'clock—ahem!"

"With Bobby, my angel."

While looked as she felt—shocked and worried.

"Peggy!"

Peggy had put the cigarette in her mouth and was reaching for a match when Alice's exclamation made her drop the little cylinder.

"Oh, what's taking you, Win! Don't be a ground gripper. I've fed up with it. I'm old enough to eat without a bill. I'm not going to vamp Bobby or anything like it."

While turned the leaves of her geometry.

"Wonder!" Her voice was musing.

Peg looked sharply at her cousin. "That's a nasty crack, Miss Y. W. C. A.!" For an instant her eyes snapped; then they showed sullen fire. "And what will you do—snitch?"

While smiled.

"No, I'll chaperone."

Peggy glared indignantly. "Under her breath sounded, 'Damn!'"

"Say, listen. What're you thinking of, little old you? You aren't thinking of Bobby's father's couple of measly millions or anything like that, are you?"

While's reply was spoken into the telephone. "To Peggy's astonishment she heard her staid cousin inviting Ted Barker, Columbia sophomore, to come at just the same time she herself expected Bob Vanderpool."

53 BOYS ENJOY A DAY'S OUTING AT BOY SCOUT CAMP

Standard Oil Truck Hauls the Youngsters to Camp; George Clark Donates use of Boat

One of the Standard Oil company trucks, with a capacity of 3,000 pounds, on Saturday carried 53 boys who accepted the invitation extended to the boys between the ages of 9 and 12, to spend a day at the Boy Scout camp, to their destination. The Standard Oil company donated four large barrels to be used as floats for a diving platform, as well as the use of their truck. Along with the 53 boys, the truck held an eighteen foot boat, donated for the use of the Boy Scouts during the camping period by Mr. George Clark of the Latvian National bank.

The truck left the city at 7:30, in charge of scout executive, Mr. Burgess, and the scoutmasters. The boys were unloaded at Little Bear camp and taken along the River. A new trail where they were shown the telephone and telegraph outfit, and down to Cold Water canyon, from thence around Rabbit's run, coming out on Uncle Sam's trail leading to headquarters, where the boys were lined up and names checked for camp record.

The boys were then shown the wireless station and the pump down in Whites' Gulch. The next trail taken was that leading to Missionary Ridge and the boys' camp. At the camp each boy was assigned a cot in a tent for the day; here they deposited their baggage, and prepared for a good swim, under the supervision of four officers. At 11:30 the boys were ready for a hike along the river. The large pine trees along this trail vary from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 feet in diameter. At Rock Springs the boys halted and drank their fill of pure, clear bubbling water. A little further up the trail the boys turned into a wooded patch, dropped their baggage and built fires for their noon-day meal.

On their return to camp, the boys rested for another hour, then took a second swim, and prepared for a real camp supper.

At 7 all boys in camp assembled at officers' headquarters. Little Bear camp, where Dan Young Bear and James Smoke, danced their Indian dances for them. Much enthusiasm was created when the boys were asked to join in, and take part in the Indian snake dance, a dance that is similar to the game known as "Stump the Leader."

at 9:30, after spending one of the happiest days of their young lives in one of the best camps in the state.

Another opportunity will be given to the boys between 9 and 12 who could participate in Saturday's outing next Saturday. A truck will leave the River building at 7:30 Saturday morning and all persons who wish to give their boys a real outing should send in the names of the boys along with their addresses, and age, to Boy Scout Headquarters, 314 Rivoli Building, before Friday morning. The boys are requested to bring the following articles: cup, plate, bowl, knife, fork, spoon, a swimming suit and an uncooked meal, which should consist of sandwiches, and something that can be easily prepared over an open camp fire. This invitation is extended to the boys who did not participate in the activities of last Saturday only.

LADDIE BOY GETS BIRTHDAY CAKE-- PREFERS A BONE

Cake Made of Dog Biscuit Sent to White House Pet for His Birthday Wednesday

WASHINGTON.—Much preferring a bone—if the truth were known—Laddie Boy, the president's dog, received a birthday cake Monday from his old man at Toledo along with a letter telling of the continued good conduct of the family.

Packed in a box shaped like a regulation dog house, the cake, made of dog biscuit material suitable for a high brow dog's digestion was delivered to the White House by express messengers.

It was not delayed by the rail strike and got here in time for Laddie Boy's birthday which is Wednesday. It will not be opened until then and meanwhile invitations will go to some of Laddie Boy's friends of equal social rank to hop over and have a bite.

There were snapshots too, of Laddie Boy's mother, his sister, Lil, who is getting along toward her high school days, his brother Bob, who has a job in New York and little Dick, the baby, born after Champion Tipton Tip Top, Laddie Boy's old man, sent him here as a friend and pal of the president. But the picture Laddie Boy seemed to like best was his daddy, an upstanding old gent built on the Laddie Boy lines and for whom at night he sometimes whines.

TUESDAY LAST DAY FOR FILING OF STATE NOMINATION PAPERS

Seven File for Congressional Nominations; McHenry Taking Papers to Madison

MADISON, Wis.—Seven more candidates for congress in the republican primaries to be held in Wisconsin September 5 filed nomination papers with the Secretary of State Tuesday, the last day for entering the race.

John N. Wesley, Stevens Point and E. A. Deane, of Wisconsin, both in the eighth district, were the last of congressional candidates with Ed. J. Murphy, Milwaukee, in the fifth district, John C. Schaefer, of Wauwatosa, in the fourth district, State Senator W. A. Tins of Fond du Lac, in the sixth district, Conrad Ditz, of Beaver Dam, in the third district, and A. C. Takes Papers to Madison

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Mayor A. C. McHenry left this morning by automobile for Madison, taking with him nomination papers signed by about 2,500 persons and will file them as candidates for Governor of Wisconsin. The number of signed papers is about 1,250 more than the minimum requirement. The mayor was accompanied by City Clerk and Mrs. Dan Wiley, who will attend the E. F. GREEN BAY'S COAL SUPPLY REPORTED NEARLY EXHAUSTED

City Virtually Without Coal and is Without Prospect of Getting Any in Near Future

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Green Bay is virtually without coal and is without prospect of getting any until the crisis is over. The E. F. V. Fuel Company, which is the only source of supply, is reported to be nearly exhausted and is merely taking orders to be filled when more coal is received. Other companies have a very limited supply on hand, only enough to fill contracts already made, it was said.

In the event of a coal strike, the city is in a very bad way, it is reported. It is a question of getting coal for the city, public utilities, and for the railroads. Even if the railroad strike were to be settled tomorrow, it would be almost a certainty that the city's coal supply would be exhausted before coal could be shipped here.

Baking Soda as a Bracer

A famous London physician in a recent paper said that when a person became worked out, run down or depressed the reaction was due to acid in the system. An antidote to acid was an alkali such as bicarbonate of soda. "The patient to be given depended on the amount and should be judged by the reaction under treatment."

The Simple Reason

"Why are you so late?" asked a passenger of a train conductor in the Southwest.

"Well, sir," explained the conductor, "the train in front was held, and this train was behind before, besides,"—American Legion Weekly.

BECK SAYS LABOR AND FARMERS ARE CHEATED OF RIGHTS

Attacks Profiteers in Talk at Taylor in Re-election Campaign

TAYLOR, Wis.—Congressman J. D. Beck spoke here Monday upon the political issues of the state and nation, reviewing the accomplishments of the last congress and discussing the influence of Wall street upon the government both in Wisconsin and at Washington. He then proceeded to discuss the economic side of present day problems and among other things said:

"I do not want any of my farmer friends to be misled by the propaganda going the rounds against labor and labor unions. There are two great wealth producing classes in the world, the farmers and the wage earners, both struggling to get a little more of the wealth they produce to do with as they please, and why shouldn't they? They produce all the wealth and yet 65 per cent of it passes into the control of two per cent of the people who produce no wealth at all. So your struggles are against a common foe rather than against each other."

Must Be Organized

"But when a farmer asks the ordinary shoe dealer why he has to pay $8 and $10 for a pair of shoes when he can scarcely give away a cow hide, he is usually told that it is because of the high wages demanded by the unions. If that is true it only means that he is better organized to get more of the wealth he produces, than the farmers are, and the only way to meet it is for the farmers to organize in the same way so as to get more of the wealth they produce. But the trouble with that story is, it isn't true. Before the war the labor cost in shoes ranged from 17 cents to 55 cents per pair. During the war that cost increased about 85 per cent, so that if wages is the only thing that entered into the increased cost of shoes, a pair that cost $5 before the war ought not to have cost $15 and $20 during the war. But when it is understood that the handful of tanners in this country increased their earnings from $4,000,000 to $36,000,000 per year during the war, I have a strong suspicion that they know something about why shoes increased from 55 per pair to $20 per pair during that period."

Have Wrong Idea

"I happened to be sitting in a barber shop in La Crosse a few days ago awaiting my turn for a shave. There were two working men sitting there ahead of me also waiting, and they were giving the farmers 'hail Columbia' because of the prices they were paying for cabbage, potatoes, butter, meat and other necessities of life. They were just as mistaken in what they were saying as the farmers who blame the wage earners for the prices they pay. Think of a farmer hoarding up his butter and eggs for a week before selling a cent to his neighbor. Think of him hoarding up his hogs for higher prices. He has to sell them whenever they are ready, otherwise they soon eat their heads off. But when it is remembered that the packers increased their earnings from $15,000,000 per year to $195,000,000 a year during the war, then we have a strong suspicion that they may know why the average wage earners and everybody else are having to pay such outrageous prices for meat. Think of a farmer in South Dakota selling a carload of lambs that netted him 25 cents per head when you can scarcely get a lamb chop in any of our large city restaurants for less than 30 cents. What becomes of the rest and the remainder of the carcass? Think of a barrel of apples yielding a farmer near Buffalo, N. Y., $2.50, going through seven different hands and costing the consumers of the city of New York $22.50. Think of a ton of cabbage yielding the farmers of Texas $20 per ton, costing the consumers of New York and Chicago $240 per ton. Think of a farmer in North Dakota shipping a carload of sheep to Chicago that did not sell for enough to pay the freight. The commission house that bought those sheep sent the farmer a bill for $27.50 to finish paying the freight. He wrote back that he had no money but he had more sheep."

Why Wages Are Low

"But some of my farmer friends say, 'Well, you can't hire any of those fellows for love or money.' Well, I know there are some fellows who will not work, do not want to work, never did, and never will. That has always been true. Some of them, such as the commission men, are able to steal their living off of you under the protection of the law, while others, a little more shifty, will naturally break into your house and steal it. But suppose you pay $80 per month instead of $40 for farm labor. You would then get all the labor you want. You'd get more than you would know what to do with. But you say you can't pay that much. Of course you can't and why? Simply because the big fellows will not let you. According to Henry Ford, the actual labor cost on any machine we buy is just about one-third what we pay for it. Suppose, therefore, you were able to get your automobile for something near its actual labor cost; suppose you were able to get your binder and other farm machinery for what it costs to make it; suppose you were able to get for your wool something like the price we have to pay for it in a suit of clothes; suppose the $175,000,000 extra profits made off the farmers by the meat packers during the war were distributed among the farmers where it belongs; suppose the $30,000,000 made off the farmers' hides was likewise distributed among the farmers; suppose you were able to get for your butter, eggs, poultry, potatoes, cabbage and other products what the consumers of our large cities have to pay. Why you would be able to pay $100 per month and have money left to burn."

GREAT CIRCUS KITCHEN BIGGEST IN THE WORLD

GLIMPSES OF CULINARY DEPARTMENT OF RINGLING BROS. AND BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS.

Supervising the culinary department of a big circus has always been a gigantic task, but when the undertaking has to do with an aggregation the size of the great new Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Shows combined, it is said that all past performances are but child's play. Yet the feeding of the army of performers and working men who are part of this mammoth super-circus is accomplished with just as little fuss and noise as that which attaches to either of the enterprises waged in the most important features are now merged into one.

As has been the case with all departments, the most efficient men and the most practical equipment of both shows have been brought together in this larger portable "hotel."

But as it is, the big fellow takes nearly all you make and if you hire a man he takes the remainder. I know of one firm in Madison manufacturing farm machinery which pays its men an average of $700 per year and actually makes, in net profits, only each man $2,300 per year.

Protection for the Pedestrian

It has long been the observation of travelers in Paris and other capitals of Europe that the pedestrian has very few rights on the streets. He is knocked down, run over and then arrested for getting in the way of a vehicle. This condition has resulted recently in the formation of a Pedestrian's League in Paris which has recognition for the person who for one reason or another is walking along the thoroughfares of the city. They have called attention to the fact that there are many rules and regulations for those who are on foot; they are told just when and where they shall walk and when they shall not. There are many penalties for those trespassing on any of these while on the other hand drivers and vehicles have the right of way and there are few laws to regulate them. This new league has received a great deal of sympathy and the membership has become very large. It is anticipated that many reforms will be accomplished.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY WEAKENS UNDER FIRE OF GIRL STUDENTS

Finally Admits Women to Its Degrees and University Membership

LONDON.—Oxford University now admits women freely to its degrees and to university membership, but Cambridge still locks its doors against them. Naturally the women don't feel a bit grateful for such glimpses. They want the doors unlocked.

The women from the Cambridge Colleges of Newham and Girton have demanded admission to degrees and University membership on the same terms as men. Not long ago some 2,000 of them signed a petition to this effect. The reply given by the University was polite, but unsatisfactory. Within the last two years Cambridge has voted and counter-voted on various proposals to admit women. The only proposal which it actually carried—and to this practical effect has not yet been given—is that women who are qualified for degree status may obtain "titles of degrees" but not real degrees.

In making this half-hearted offer Cambridge is proposing to treat women just as it formerly treated Jews and Non-conformists, whom also it tried to satisfy with the titular degree until Parliament stepped in and compelled the University to abolish its discriminations of creed.

Now women want Parliament to intervene and compel Cambridge to abolish its discrimination against their sex. And signs are not lacking that Cambridge itself is beginning to see that it will not pay to keep the women knocking at their doors much longer.

A deputation consisting of several members of Parliament, the heads of Girton and Newham Colleges and other friends of the movement recently talked with Mr. Fisher, Minister of Education. The Minister made it quite plain that he was on the side of the women and would do all in his power to persuade Cambridge to open its doors to them. Parliament also was undoubtedly on their side. Cambridge was looking for a grant from the Exchequer, he said, but it was not likely Parliament would vote it while Cambridge continued to exclude women. If Cambridge found that by keeping women out the needed money also would be kept out she would probably quickly decide to let them in. It might not therefore become necessary to employ legislative pressure to force her to open her doors.

U. S. SETS IN MOTION COAL CONTROL PLAN

Availability of possibility of nationalizing the coal industry and "the feasibility or necessity of governmental regulation and control of the coal industry."

Name Fuel Administrator

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Iran Bowen, State railroad and warehouse commissioner, Tuesday was appointed Minnesota fuel administrator by Governor Preuss, who also called upon the state of Iowa, Wisconsin and the Dakotas to aid in assuring an ample coal supply for the northwest.

The governor notified the executives of the adjacent states that he is about to circulate all coal dealers in Minnesota to ascertain the supply on hand and also to learn what coal is needed for the winter.

Commissioner Bowen, the governor said, will have charge of the collection of this information and will from this time on direct the campaign for coal shipments on the great lakes.

Senator Kollogg wired the governor today that he had been assured the interstate commerce commission is prepared to issue priority orders for the northwest whenever coal can be moved by the railroads.

Seeks Reopening in Michigan

SAGINAW, Mich.—Governor A. J. Groesbeck renewed his efforts here Tuesday to bring about resumption of operations in Michigan's bituminous coal mines, virtually all of which are located near Bay City and Saginaw.

The governor came here for a conference with state heads of the miners' union and the mine operators convinced that nothing but loyalty to the national union stood in the way of a return to work of the miners who, according to the operators, have no grievance with local operators.

The miners were being urged to return under a guarantee that none of the output would be shipped outside the state.

The labor board went into executive session today presumably to officially hear Chairman Hooper's report of his conference with President Harding.

ADD AN "M" TO "3 R'S," IS MUSICIAN'S ADVICE

GENEVIEVE LICHTENWALTER

"We can never become a musical nation until every boy and girl studies music as well as 'reading, 'rith and 'rithmetic.'"

So says Genevieve Lichtenwalter, Kansas City, Mo., winner of the first prize in piano at the School of Music, Fontainebleau, France. She is also a composer of note.

"Systematic study through the grades is the only educational route to a national musical understanding," she continues.

"Our great lack of musical appreciation as a nation comes from two causes, superficiality and showiness of the teacher. The latter is a product of the first."

Garin featured the game. He hit two singles, a double and a home run in five times at bat. His homer came in the fifth inning with two men on the bases.

DAHL'S FORDS MEET FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON AT HANDS OF LA CROSSE NEWS COMPANY

GREAT INTEREST REVIVED AS NEWS COMPANY WINS, 2-1

Score Two Runs in First Inning While Fords Count Lone Score in Fourth

INTENSE interest in the Junior league competition was revived on Monday night when the Dahl's Fords, after winning twenty-one consecutive games and maintaining an undefeated record in games played during the season, for the first time tasted of the sting of defeat at the hands of one of the Junior league teams.

To the La Crosse News Company, the honor of defeating this St. Paul Junior club in a league game played at the high school grounds, 2 to 1. Neuman, pitching for the winners, allowed but three hits, while Krimmer, on the mound for the Fords, tossed out two safeties. Bateman, with two men on base, was responsible for the Newsies two scores in the first inning.

Both hurlers worked in top-notch form, Neuman tossing out one more than Krimmer, but had the edge on the Ford batters in strikeouts. The La Crosse News company played errorless ball behind Neuman, two errors being chalked up against the Fords. Krimmer's error let Saltz on base safely in the first.

Score in First
The News company scored their two runs in the first inning. Murphy was hit by a pitched ball and Saltz was safe on Christopher's error at second. Coughlin struck out and then came Bateman's powerful drive which sailed over for a homer, but the pitcher struck a tree and bounded back into the field. Saltz and Murphy scored on the hit. The next two men up struck out.

The Fords scored their run in the fourth inning when after two were out, Steege singled and scored on Payers' triple. Ridley grounded out to retire the side. Coughlin played his usual stellar game in center field, pulling a shoestring catch in the third inning, while Warttbee on third took all the hot liners coming his way.

BIM LOVEKIN, OF GREEN BAY, IS NEW STATE GOLF CHAMP

Wins Professional Title at Monday's Match in Milwaukee

OCONOMOWOC. — Bim Lovekin of the Fox River Valley golf club at Green Bay succeeded Jimmy Mason, assistant to Leve Wilson of the Blue Mound Club, Milwaukee, as professional golf champion of the state here Monday. Jimmy Rose, Oconomowoc finished second.

Championship play was scheduled for 36 holes but at the completion of the morning and afternoon rounds Lovekin, Jimmy Rose, D. Martin of Madison and Carl Giehler of the Milwaukee country club were tied for first, each with a card of 150. An extra nine holes were started and the battle for the state golf supremacy, which had attracted entrants from practically all of the clubs in the state, had cut itself down to a fight between the above named quartet.

On all but two holes, Lovekin played par golf, and on these each made in one above par, stubborn putts crimped chances for printed scores. Rose finished with 37, two over par, and on the last hole he could have holed, Jimmy Rose, in second place finished with a 39. Martin and Giehler both finished in 40.

STODDARD BEATS GENOA ON SUNDAY BY SCORE OF 3-2

Genoa looked like a sure winner Sunday at Stoddard when they led all the way by the score of 2 to 1, but were finally defeated 3 to 2.

WITH THE MAJOR LEAGUES

CHICAGO. — By The Associated Press. — New York and St. Louis clubs, leading contenders in the major leagues, today opposed each other in the opening games of series that may have a decision bearing on the outcome of their respective pennant races.

The Yankees, who lost the lead the last time they toured the western strongholds, were one and a half games behind the Browns as they invaded St. Louis.

The Hugmei were strengthened for the crucial test by the acquisition of third baseman Dugan and outfielder Smith in a trade with the Red Sox.

The Giants, concluding their tour by dividing a double header with Pittsburgh yesterday secured no better than an even break in 20 games with western rivals. The substantial lead with which they started the invasion was rapidly reduced by the onrush of the Cardinals who took 14 out of 18 starts against eastern clubs.

WILE BROTHERS DEFEAT KOLBOS IN LEAGUE GAME, 3-2

Dunham Hurls Good Exhibition of Ball, Passing Out Scattered Hits

Monday night at Copeland park, Wile Brothers defeated Kolbo Brothers by the close score of 3 to 2. Anderson was relieved by Dunham in the second frame, owing to a sore finger. Jack Dunham pitched good ball, keeping the few hits well scattered. Vaughn, hearing for Kolbo's, worked well but his mates failed to give him the support necessary for a win. Score by innings:

Kolbo Bros. 101 00—2
Wile Bros. 012 00—3
Batteries: Vaughn and Blank; Anderson, Dunham and Finnanger.

including three out of four from the Champions and enjoyed the sensation of occupying first place for a day by climbing ahead of New York on Saturday.

Tillie Walker knocked out his 24th home run as Philadelphia closed its home stand by beating Washington 4 to 2 and was robbed of the 25th when a fan pushed the ball out of the bleachers. Walker is now three ahead of Ken Williams his nearest American league rival and two behind Rogers Hornsby, the national league clout-king.

Coveleskie outpitched Red Faber and Cleveland defeated Chicago 5 to 2 in the only other game played in the major leagues yesterday.

The Giants and Cardinals were practically on even terms in their seasonal race as they opened a five game series at the Polo Grounds New York holding first place by the fraction of one percentage point while the westerners had an advantage of half a game in the won and lost table.

MONOPOLY IN SISAL CHARGED BY CAPPER ASKS ACTION BY U. S.

Leader of Senate Farm Bloc
Calls on Daugherty for Prosecution of Twine Firm

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sherman anti-trust laws prosecution of alleged American-Mexican monopoly of sisal, used in making binding twine, was asked of Attorney General Daugherty in a formal complaint filed Monday by Senator Capper, Kansas, republican, chairman of the senate agricultural bloc.

The Sisal Sales corporation and its New York agents, Hanson & Orth, and the Commission Exportadora de Yucatan, Mexico, were named by Senator Capper in his complaint. The former was alleged to be the American selling organization and the latter charged with being in control of the Mexican sisal corporation.

Capper Charges Monopoly

Senator Capper, actuated by complaints of Kansas officials regarding a binding twine monopoly, cited a provision in the Sherman anti-trust law against interests conspiring to increase selling prices of foreign products in America, and charged that the two organizations constituted "a monopoly operating in the United States."

"This concern," Senator Capper's complaint recited, "is compelling many manufacturers of binding twine to pay excessive and unwarranted prices for sisal. The result is that farmers are obliged to pay outrageous prices for binding twine."

Shows Price Increase

Senator Capper declared that less than a year ago Yucatan sisal was selling at 2 1/2 cents a pound but now a minimum of 6 U. S. cents was being asked.

"Under present conditions," Senator Capper said, "American interest look to Yucatan for its sisal, but our government should see to it that American consumers are no longer exploited by this foreign monopoly. The farmers are already operating under conditions as adverse as that any increase in the price of binding twine constitutes a burden that they will no longer bear with patience."

COMPLETE CONCRETE ROAD FROM OSHKOSH TO FOND DU LAC

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Work of placing concrete on a three mile stretch of highway on Route 55, immediately south of this city, has been completed. It will be opened to traffic in about three weeks. This makes the entire route from Oshkosh to Fond du Lac concrete, a distance of twenty miles, and the new piece of roadway will become a part of the great ribbon of concrete from Green Bay to Milwaukee, soon to be opened. The only sections not completed are at Ladina and Theresa. These will be finished this fall.

This Green Laundry Soap Looks Like Castile Because It Contains Olive Oil

Probably you do not know that the ordinary laundry soap contains a large quantity of "filler," including water glass made from sand. The women who do know this are careful to get the best. GREEN ARROW bar made by The Palmolive Co. It is all soap, hence all cleaning power, and combines real olive oil and naphtha.

One chemist examined 27 other popular brands and found from 25% to 50% of every bar was "filler."

That is why fabric makers would not think of washing their fine materials with soap you wash them with after you buy them.

The fabric experts use olive oil soap because there is nothing like it to soften and preserve the fibers and colors, or bring out whiteness and freshness.

Imagine how water glass "filler" must cut your clothes when it gets ground into the threads in the wash, and then turns sharp and brittle when your clothes dry.

The thin spots, frayed edges and little holes that you think are caused by "wash wear" are usually caused by "filler" in the soap. You cannot see the fine, colorless particles that grind and rot the fabric.

"Filler" has no more cleaning power than sawdust. Hence, until you use GREEN ARROW, you cannot know how much easier it would be to wash with pure soap, and how many bars you would save.

Many women who have tried GREEN ARROW write letters like these:

"The work GREEN ARROW soap does is wonderful. I was able to do my washing with half the amount of soap that I generally use. With better results."—Mrs. G. E.

"GREEN ARROW goes farther than the soap I have been using. I like it better than other naphtha soap because it is easier on the hands and the clothes have a sweeter odor."—Mrs. A. H. V.

In The MOVIES

STRAND TODAY

Jack London never fails to bring back the old thrills with his stories that sizzle with adventure and romance in the great open spaces where men are "either white or yellow." In "The Son of the Wolf," the great author crammed abundant drama of the most thrilling nature and Norman Dawn, who filmed the stories has brought it all out in vivid fashion on the screen. The story has to do with the love of a wanderer in the snowlands for a pretty Indian maid, to win whom he undergoes all manner of hardships and risks all sorts of dangers. "The Son of the Wolf" is the current feature at the Strand.

"SILENT YEARS" HAS BIG DRAMATIC NOTE

"Silent Years" represents the art of L. J. Gasnier at its absolute best for this unusual production, the scenes of which are laid in the picturesque St. Lawrence River country is regarded as one of the greatest subjects ever produced by the noted French director. It is scheduled for screening at the Riviera Theatre today.

The spirit of the story is that of self-sacrifice and the happiness that comes to those who give freely. It is a big theme and a timely theme and Mr. Gasnier develops it into a great big human story. The central character of the story is Jo Morey, otherwise known as Mam'selle Jo from which Miss Comstock's story derived its name. Experience hard and bitter, had molded the features of Jo and the man's work she had done had given her face a masculine sternness, but her character a masculine ruggedness. But her fine eyes, her lustrous hair and her warm, generous heart were really feminine.

As Dondale, a dramatic figure in "Silent Years," Pauline Starke wins high honors. Miss Starke already has given ample proof of her great ability on the screen.

MAJESTIC WEDNESDAY

It was the singing of "Sally in Our Alley" that brought fame to Lydia Yeomans Titus, who has a screaming, funny part in "Beauty's Morning," a charming picture starring Marion Davies.

"Beauty's Worth," directed by Robert C. Vignola, will be presented at the Majestic Theatre beginning Wednesday, written by Sophie Kerr.

"POVERTY OF RICHES," A TRUE-TO-LIFE STORY

The new Goldwyn picture coming to the Rivoli Theatre for two days, beginning today, is the Reginald Barker production, "Poverty of Riches."

a photoplay version of Leroy Scott's story, "The Mother." It is a simple tale of two families, life-long friends and the joys and sorrows that their different attitude toward the future of life brings. One of the young husbands is ambitious for power beyond all thought of rearing a family. Although he and his wife love children he gives them every luxury that he missed in his youth. Their friends do not wait until they become wealthy in order to find their happiness. They find it in their youth in their love for each other and for their children.

In "Poverty of Riches," the development of the two families is traced side by side and the real joys of the less financially successful family is poignantly contrasted with the hollow satisfactions that follow upon the business success of their friends.

MAJESTIC TODAY

Wanda Hawley and T. Roy Barnes as a young married couple offer a treat at the Majestic in "Too Much Wife," a Reelart comedy-drama and one of the best things of its kind ever seen on the screen.

It's a long story when you try to write it, but it reels along at the lightning of speed, with a laugh to mark every couple of revolutions. Miss Hawley, as a fond little bride, eager to insure the marital happiness of herself and her bridegroom, takes advice from her "masterful" mother.

OVER ONE HUNDRED ARE EXAMINED FOR BARBER'S LICENSES

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—One hundred and twenty-five applicants for master barbers' certificates Tuesday finished examinations here before the Wisconsin board of barber examiners. Although the number passing the tests has not yet been announced, W. L. Smith, president of the board, said that statistics show that only 37 per cent of the applicants pass the examination.

The candidate is required to cut hair, shave and answer more than 40 questions on sanitation. Sanitation, according to Mr. Smith, is given the utmost attention by the board, and the applicant must be able to answer all questions concerning it.

"Barbers must concentrate," said Mr. Smith, "Choppy haircuts, uneven shaves and a general untidy appearance of the patron is the result of a barber who gazes out of the window, or is lost in a reverie about baseball or gossip instead of putting all his mental efforts into his work."

How You Can Make Hairs Quickly Disappear

(Helps to Beauty)

Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with delatone. To remove hair from arms, neck or face make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain you get real delatone and mix fresh as wanted.

HASTINGS DRAWS FINES AND JAIL TERMS SATURDAY

Moonshine Peddler Gets Heavy Sentence for Activities at Spring Grove

Clarence Hastings, former resident of Genoa who now claims La Crosse as his home, pleaded guilty to charges of transporting and selling intoxicating liquor at Austin, Minn., Saturday morning. He was fined $100 and costs, and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail on the first charge, and $250 and costs and sentenced to 60 days on the second charge. For failure to pay the first fine an additional 60 days will be imposed; failure to pay the second fine will lengthen his term by four months.

Though he had some money in his possession, it was not expected that Hastings would be able to pay his fines in full. The sentences will total nine months unless the fines are paid.

Hastings was arrested by W. H. Walters, sheriff of Houston county, when he emerged from a corn field and begged a ride in the sheriff's car. The sheriff had been in the vicinity of Spring Grove investigating a report of bootleggers' activities, and had been looking for Hastings. Fifteen pints of moonshine were found in Hastings' baggage and $120 in his purse, the sheriff reported.

Hastings gave his address as La Crosse, but is a former resident of Genoa. He is a widower with three children.

CALEDONIA MEN ARE IN HOSPITAL AFTER ACCIDENT MONDAY

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.
